Another Championship for Joe Gibbs Racing & Intercomp

Minneapolis, MN – After coming back from a brutal crash the day before the Daytona 500, Joe Gibbs Racing driver, Kyle Busch, has been crowned the NASCAR Sprint Cup Champion! Kyle endured multiple surgeries and physical therapy sessions, missing 11 races from his injuries, but even with the odds stacked against him, he came back in a fantastic display of determination to win it all. This is the first championship for Busch, as well as Toyota; this is the fourth crown for Joe Gibbs Racing.

Joe Gibbs Racing and Kyle Busch rely on the advanced technology of Intercomp RFX™ Wireless Weighing and Microflex™ Scales to make them a dominant force in NASCAR. Intercomp Microflex scales feature four load cells per pad for extreme precision and ultra-low deflection. Intercomp is proud of their partnership with Joe Gibbs Racing and offers congratulations to Kyle Busch and the rest of the Joe Gibbs Racing family for their accomplishments.
